

Informational Hearing

*Tuesday, June 1, 2004
1:30 p.m.
State Capitol, Room 437*

Agenda

The Conclusions and Recommendations of the 2004 University Eligibility Study, prepared by the California Postsecondary Education Commission (CPEC).

1:30 p.m. The Findings and Conclusions of the Eligibility Study.

- Adrian Griffin
Senior Policy Analyst, California Postsecondary Education Commission (CPEC).

The Report from the University of California Eligibility and Admissions Study Group.

- Bruce Darling
Senior Vice President, University of California.
- M.R.C. Greenwood
Provost and Senior Vice President, University of California.
- Barbara Sawrey
Professor, Chair of Board of Admissions and Relations to Schools, University of California

The California State University Perspective on the CPEC Eligibility Study.

- Allison Jones
Assistant Vice Chancellor, Office of the Chancellor, California State University.

The Policy Implications of the Proposed Six-Year Compact with the University of California (UC) and California State University (CSU).

2:30 p.m. The Rationale and Benefits of the Compact, from the UC and the CSU Perspective.

- Lawrence Hershman
Vice President, University of California (UC).
- Patrick Lenz
Vice President, California State University (CSU).

What are the Short and Long-term Policy Implications of the Compact?

- Steve Boilard
Director for Higher Education, Legislative Analyst's Office (LAO).

What are the Implications for California's Community Colleges?

- Robert Turnage
Vice Chancellor, Fiscal Policy, Chancellor's Office of the California Community Colleges.