

Sexual Assault and Harassment on Campus
A Roundtable Discussion of UC Berkeley's Prevention and Response Efforts

Wednesday, September 24, 2014
1:45pm – 3:45pm
University of California, Berkeley
Clark Kerr Conference Center, Krutch Theatre
2601 Warring Street, Berkeley, 94720

Agenda

One in five women will experience sexual assault during their college career. In less than 5% of incidents the attack will be reported to law enforcement. Most frequently victims choose not to report believing the crime will not be taken seriously by authorities. Despite federal and state laws that require specific prevention education, reporting, and response activities, there are critical questions about whether campuses are doing enough to protect students. This roundtable discussion will examine efforts at UC Berkeley to strengthen education and prevention programs, to improve the handling of sexual assault complaints, and to expand resources available to survivors.
